The events that I am going to narrate below occurred approximately in 2015. At that time, I was 13 years old, I was in middle school and I did the things that girls my age do. Every afternoon that I came back from school, my parents weren't at home and neither were my brothers. I used to come home, put down my backpack, change my clothes and sleep in the afternoon.

The day the strange events occurred I couldn't sleep in the afternoon, but I was lying on my bed with my cell phone. The door of my room was open so light came in from outside. After lying on my bed, I heard that the gate of my house was opened and I thought: "Maybe it's my brother, he must have come from high school" So, I pretended to be asleep. I closed my eyes waiting for my brother to arrive to check if I was asleep like he sometimes did. I waited a few minutes and no footsteps, or anything was heard. I went to check my brother's room and I realized that there was no one in the house and that the sounds of the door opening and the light that entered from the outside was not caused by a human. I decided to go back to my room. My room has a door that opens onto the backyard and when I returned the door was opened, so I went out to the backyard to see if there was someone.

There was no one.

I was scared, but I thought "maybe it was my imagination". I think that's what we all think when things like this happen to us.

The day continued its course normally, but when night came, and my family had already gone to sleep, I was in my room with insomnia and suddenly I was very thirsty, so I decided to go to the kitchen. In the kitchen there is a window that faces the street and my neighbors' house. The neighbor's dog, which is really menacing, was barking a lot, so I looked out and saw a woman coming down the street. The woman looked very thin, dressed in black and her hair was long. She was coming towards me and, as she was moving forward, the dog was moving away from her, which was strange because the dog doesn't run away from anything. While the mysterious woman was passing in front of the window of my house, I started to feel very scared, my hands began to sweat and I was shaking, but I was very curious to know who she was. I slowly approached the window to be able to continue watching but suddenly the woman was in front of me. I panicked and to my surprise, she didn't have a normal face, her face was deformed, and it was terrifying, but it was possible to see where her eyes and mouth should be. I remember she tried to smile, and it made her look horrible. I was petrified but suddenly I felt in great danger. I managed to react and run to my room.

I was terrified by what I had witnessed.

I could never forget that face, but I am grateful that I did not run with the same fate as other people who came across her. Time after that unusual experience, a lady known to my mother told her that it was rumored that this woman was a person who had died due to strange circumstances, and now whoever crossed her path also found the same fate as her.
